Special Events Ask Public

Every year Arthur Hill invites both Saginaw's citizens and its students to memorable presentations. School talent entertains in the annual Band Bounce. The true Christmas Spirit warms the Christmas Pageant audience. Homecoming plants new memories or brings back old memories. Many special events belong to the Hillites alone. The purchase of a dance ticket means that some lucky girl will have a date to an after-game dance or even better yet—The Prom! The S.O. campaign invites each student to economically attend Arthur Hill's special events for 1960.

Tears . . . Excitement . . . Cheers . . .

Janet couldn't hide the emotion that rose up inside her.

Every year Hillites look forward to their homecoming game and to honoring their homecoming queen. The excitement and the glamour never fade. It begins with girls being nominated in advisory. Then the surprise passes from the office, the Interview Assembly, the tears of joy and surprise by the Queen and her court as the announcement is made to the student body of those chosen to represent their school as its royalty. Next comes the beautiful Coronation Assembly making every student's heart fill with gladness and pride in his school. Last, but not least, comes the big homecoming game and the coronation for our friends and alumni, followed by the traditional homecoming dance after the game. Yes, homecoming is wonderful!

"Sacrifice," an Aztec Indian dance done by Brad Zittel and Carol Grigsby, was the biggest hit of the evening.

'Special' Shows Skill and Style

Jae Wright, Herbert Eldredge, David Allen Helpap, and Randy Peters are the forsaken souls singing, "I've Got A Wife At Home."

South American music with a Calypso beat, a Swiss accordion number, a Russian dance, and an American modern dance lent excitement and variety to the '59 Band Bounce. This colorful and entertaining "special" was the result of the hard work of all the students who took part and its directors Mr. Wilford Crawford—Instrumental Music, Miss Rachel McMillan—Vocal Music, Mr. Stanley Schubert—Staging and Continuity, and Mrs. Eleanor McCrea—Dances and Majorettes.

Gay and delightful was the accent put on music when Dorothy Hubinger treated the audience to a Swiss accordion solo.

People of the stage are ordinarily superstitious but thirteen proved to be a lucky number for this triumphant cast of thirteen: Alex Landsburg, Riitta Suominen, Bill Sharffe, Marcia Millet, Peter Schilling, Lynn Howe, Phil Sturtz, Carol Catrain, Jim Heffel, Mary Senn, Tom DuCharme, SueDeford, and Loy Ruiz.

Death Takes A Holiday November 19 and 20.

What would you do if Death spent a few days at your house? Oh, no, not in his usual role, but as a guest of the family and under an assumed name. The Baron, William Scharffe, and his wife, the Baroness, Riitta Suominen, did well to portray how normal people would react to such an experience. The students of Arthur Hill High School and their guests were well entertained and mystified as Phil Sturtz carried out the role as Death in the well staged drama, Death Takes A Holiday.

"I am Death!" came forth the reply from the most dreaded figure portrayed by Phil Sturtz.

Could it be, that this is what wins? Direct from Ends ville are a few of the chicks who did their best to help all the girls get hep, Nancy Noble, Diane Davis, Sue Tarrant and Ann Laing. Were you in Ends ville?

Victory Goes to Girls in S. O. War

Jill Barber,
Girls' Chairman

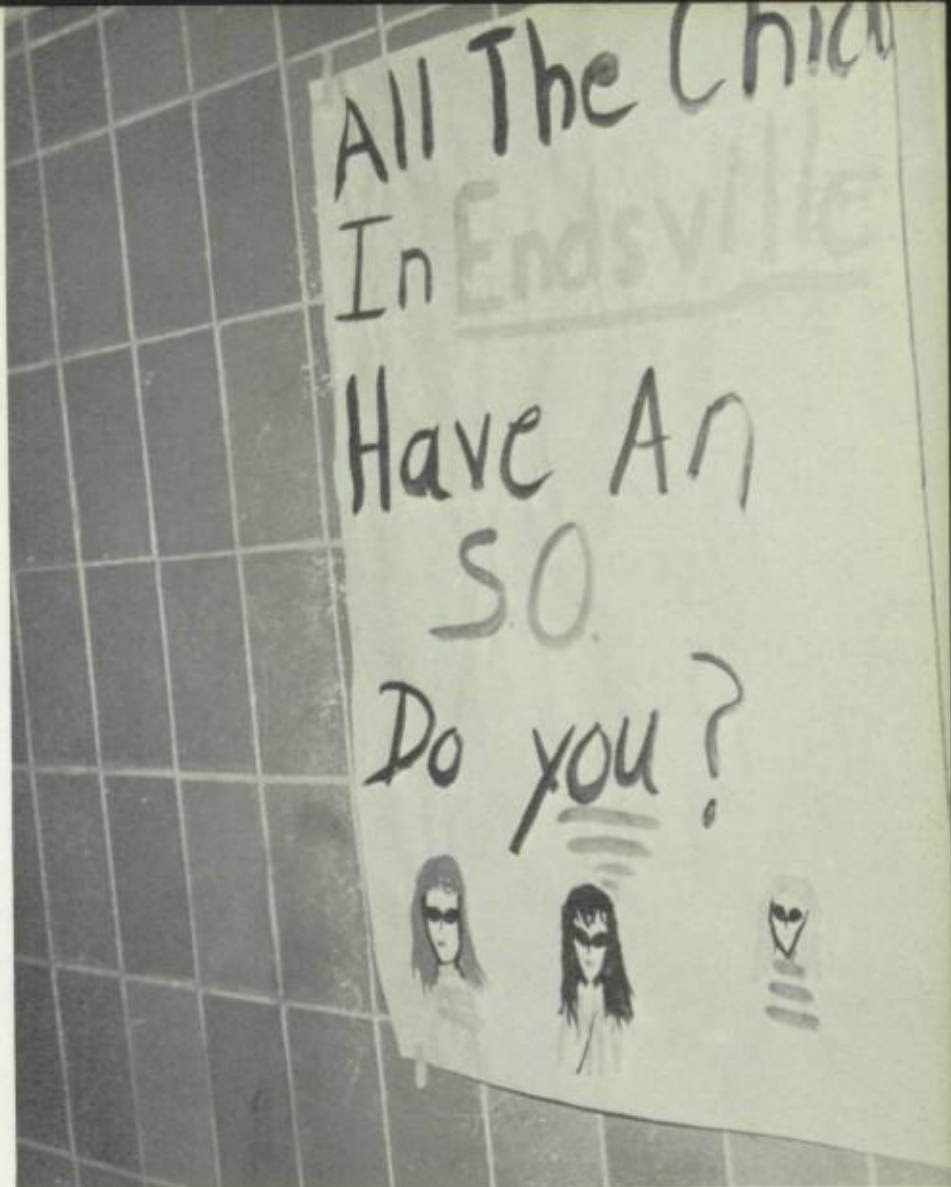

Doug Peacock,
Boys' Chairman

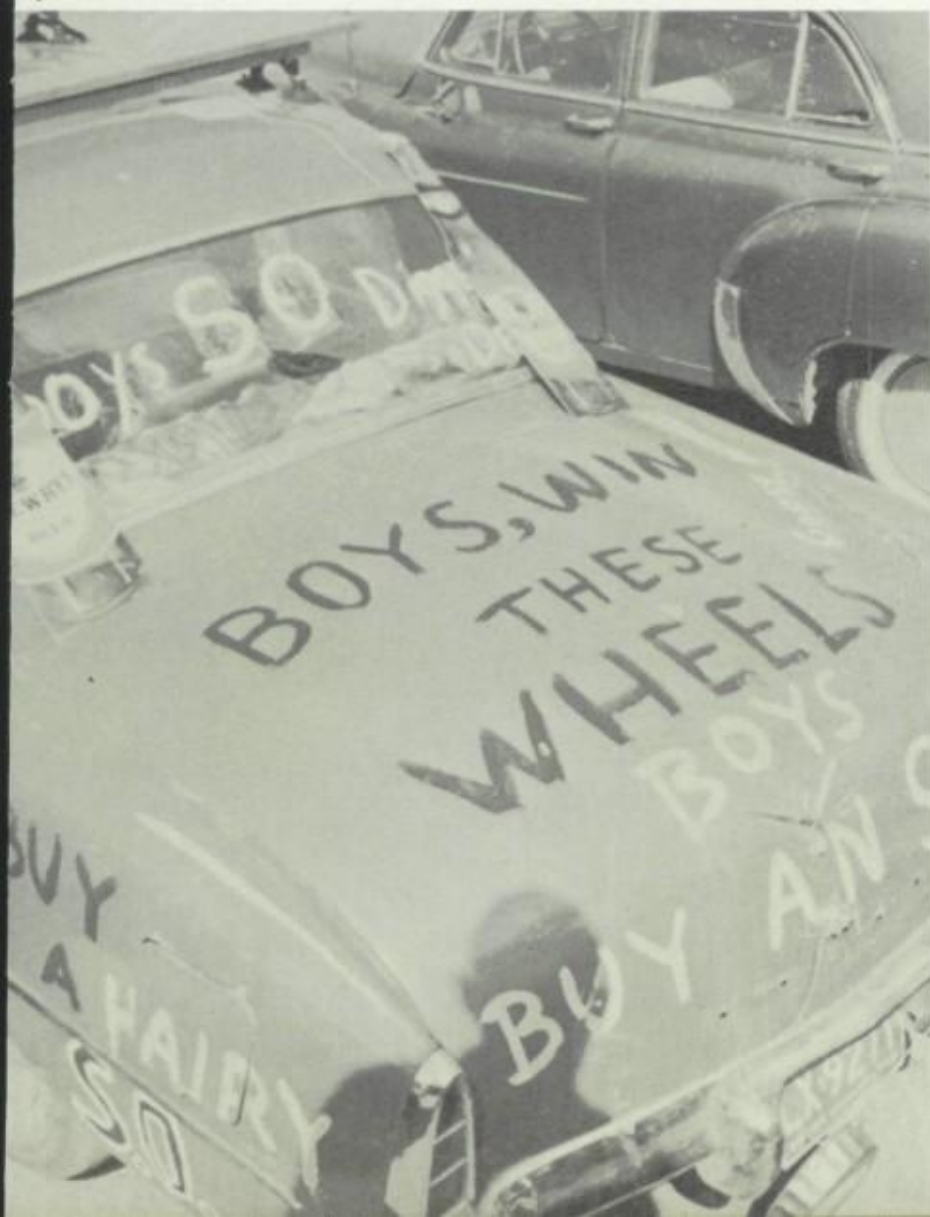

Carol Catrain,
Girls' Co-Chairman

Interest and excitement is generated in students during the few days of the S. O. Campaign. They learn loyalty to their own sex, what competition is, and loyalty to their school, besides. Hard work is always needed in this campaign, and it is usually done willingly. Students enjoy the small campaign assemblies put on by the committees in the morning before school starts. Adding to the clever posters and skits the committees originate are the clever and sometimes weird announcements made over the P.A. The girls were rewarded for their hard work as the announcement was made that they had triumphed over the boys. Fun and hard work pay off.

Crude? Maybe so, but these posters pulled the chicks to victory.

Alright, you cats, what happened? Didn't this cool rod appeal to you? Yes, fellow, you might have won it if you had bought an S.O. Did your

This was the threat made by "Digger Deeper", the morbid character who motivated the boys' campaign.

"Hey, Man, this is what a football game will be like in the future," narrated a cool beatnik from Saginaw High for the hit of their exchange assembly.

Bob Hill, the Wright Brothers, and the Bongo Trio provide enjoyable entertainment at the Boys' SO assembly.

Attentive Behavior Is Rewarded by Assemblies

Nik Schulwitz, Mike Hill, Gary Hoewe, William Freidinger, Bob Northway, and Chuck Bottke, the honor guard, stand before the many names of alumni from Arthur Hill who sacrificed their lives for their country. While the bugle sounded taps, the students in the auditorium stood in silent respect.

Fourteen of the seventeen students going to Europe are Joe Johnson, Ruth Zahnow, Danice Chinery, Bob Posey, Donna Simpson, John Hansen, Ellen Timmons, Jane Pringing, Brian Heffley, Gail Marquis, Sandy Armstrong, Carolyn Byron, Pat Braun, and Janice Szott. Missing from the picture are Dorthy Hubinger, Pat Manning, and Prudy Otto.

How would you like to spend your summer in Europe? These lucky seventeen students through their scholastic efforts have been awarded the privilege of doing so by the Student Exchange Program sponsored in part by the Michigan Council of Churches. If it is possible they have their choice of the country they are to visit. They are not told of their acceptance until the last school hour on the day of the tea. Attending this tea are all the surprised students, their parents, the exchange students of last summer, the foreign exchange students, and the counselors.

"Europe, here we come!"

Congratulations were generously given by Senior Hostesses and foreign exchange students to the lucky girls and boys finally chosen to represent our school and country.

Dick Ryan, disc jockey of "Teen Canteen" was on hand to spin records and add to the gay time at the Sophomore Party. New attractions at this all-sophomore dance were a dance contest and a "Big Surprise".

Hawaii, land of enchantment, served as the theme of the Junior Prom. Among the memories of that never-to-be-forgotten dance are the clever decorations of silhouettes of hula girls and the mountains to be found on the island, the girls wearing leis serving refreshments of Hawaiian punch and coconut cookies from a unique grass hut refreshment stand, and the baby orchids each girl received as she entered.

Hawaiian refreshments were served by lovely girls from the little grass hut.

Decorations Delight Dancers

The enthusiasm of the sophomores could be easily seen as they danced to records spun by disc-jockey Dick Ryan.

Invitations Recall Memories

Calling cards, graduation invitations, prom tickets, the good old mortar board and gold tassel: these remain lasting memories for each senior. A safe-kept invitation to the "ball" or a summons to the last supreme ceremony at Arthur Hill will become souvenirs of his alma mater. Upon graduation, these Hillites of '60 will forever follow separate paths. Old times, however, will never be forgotten. Each alumnus will relive old times through memories and mementos.

Classes Entreat Workers

Behind each class room door each day new knowledge, presented by trained teachers, beckons each student to utilize his ability. If a student takes full advantage of this invitation extended at Arthur Hill, he can begin the road to success. Each teacher issues a standing offer of aid to his pupils. In 163, library shelves upon shelves await the curious mind. Report cards (even though they are a hindrance at times) record the tests of one's talents. All this plus the friendly atmosphere provided by friends and instructors make the student feel at home. Each Hillite may enter into this bargain with just one contribution—w-o-r-k!

On the second Tuesday of each month the Board of Education meet and discuss all school matters. First row: E. Stansbury, President; C. Coulter, W. Leesch. Second row: H. Rockwell, Treasurer; H. Karls, Secretary; W. Averill. Missing from the picture: R. Grant, V. President.

In developing a comprehensive program which will allow every person to obtain an education which will enable him to realize his optimum potential, Mr. Charles C. Coulter and his group of administrative assistants have placed the accent on enlarging the counseling program in junior and senior high school.

With the ultimate goal of making all students contributing members of society, better guidance will put more round pegs in round holes—will help more students to get off to a better start earlier in life.

MR. HUGH SHACKELFORD
B.S., M.A., Attendance Counselor
Faculty Manager, Athletics

With the encouragement of our principal Mr. Brock, who is continually striving for the best to accommodate all the students, the counseling program was extended at Arthur Hill.

New this year is the addition of the attendance room, also used for counseling, which is under the supervision of Mr. Hugh Shackelford, Attendance Counselor. Besides being in charge of all attendance records, Mr. Shackelford acts as Sophomore Class Adviser. He puts a very strong emphasis on counseling all new sophomores.

Working on the counseling program with Mr. Giesecke, Senior Class Adviser, is Mrs. Baxter. Being new on the counseling staff, Mrs. Baxter finds herself very busy. In addition to being Junior Class Adviser, she works with Mr. Giesecke on preparing seniors for college, enrolling new students, adjusting schedules, and arranging testing programs.

Assuming her new position of Dean with respect and hard work, Miss Olmsted has charge of all student scholarships and special awards. Along with being chairman of the Honor Alumnus Tea and Dinner, she also selects Senior Hostesses and Wolverine Girls' State representatives. Working coordinately with Mr. Morrow, the assistant principal, who supervises the interior and exterior of the building, Miss Olmsted directs girls' citizenship while Mr. Morrow handles boys' discipline.

Bob Hill

Many of the dances which Hillites attend are planned and supervised by the Big 14 members. FIRST ROW: A. Gross, D. Boyd, A. Laing, J. Bingham, C. Meyer. SECOND ROW: D. Peacock, P. Marks, T. Mitchell, B. Smith, B. Lauderbach, R. Thumme, R. Beebe. Missing from the picture are S. White and C. Walker.

Heads Arthur Hill

Climax of a week that was filled with campaign pins, parades, and posters, was the campaign assembly where Hillites heard each candidate give his final speech before the actual voting began. After the preliminaries were over and each office was limited to three candidates, anxious voters went to the polls and cast their ballots for the persons whom they wished to head school affairs: Bob Hill, president, Joe Mason, vice president, Nyla Kurtz, secretary, and Jill Barber, treasurer.

After receiving their instructions from Mr. Gibbons, Carol Rieck and Barbara Ellis will begin working at the Second National Bank.

The posting machine adds variety to Gal Schluckbier's job at Wickes Corporation. Mrs. Elvira Biss looks on.

Early dismissal from school and receiving money for it, is a situation any of us would envy. Students enrolling in Office Training, Salesmanship, or Business Training will agree. Students interested in salesmanship are placed by Mr. Hartman, Retailing Co-ordinator. Girls wishing jobs dealing in office training and secretarial procedure are placed by Miss Redstone. Having the incentive of capital and credit, many continue with these placements even after graduation.

"Don't breathe!" Joe Endstrasser has stopped until his project in crafts is completed.

Watch the Steady Hands!

Steady hands are vital in art, craft, industrial arts, and mechanical drawing classes. Future engineers will be particularly interested in mechanical drawing under the supervision of Mr. Pieritz. Carpenters-to-be will want to enroll in shop under Mr. Grossman or crafts under Mr. Mitchell.

If making posters or table decorations or the fine art of painting appeal to you, Mrs. Siehr's art classes will afford you opportunities to express creative ability.

Planning to go to Europe this summer? Are you starting preparations for a cruise around the world? If you are the language department certainly has definite advantages. But if your plans for the immediate future don't include either of these, a knowledge of a foreign language will also help you. If you are planning to go to college a language is required for admittance. The four languages taught at Arthur Hill—French, German, Latin, and Spanish—can also provide variety to your schedule.

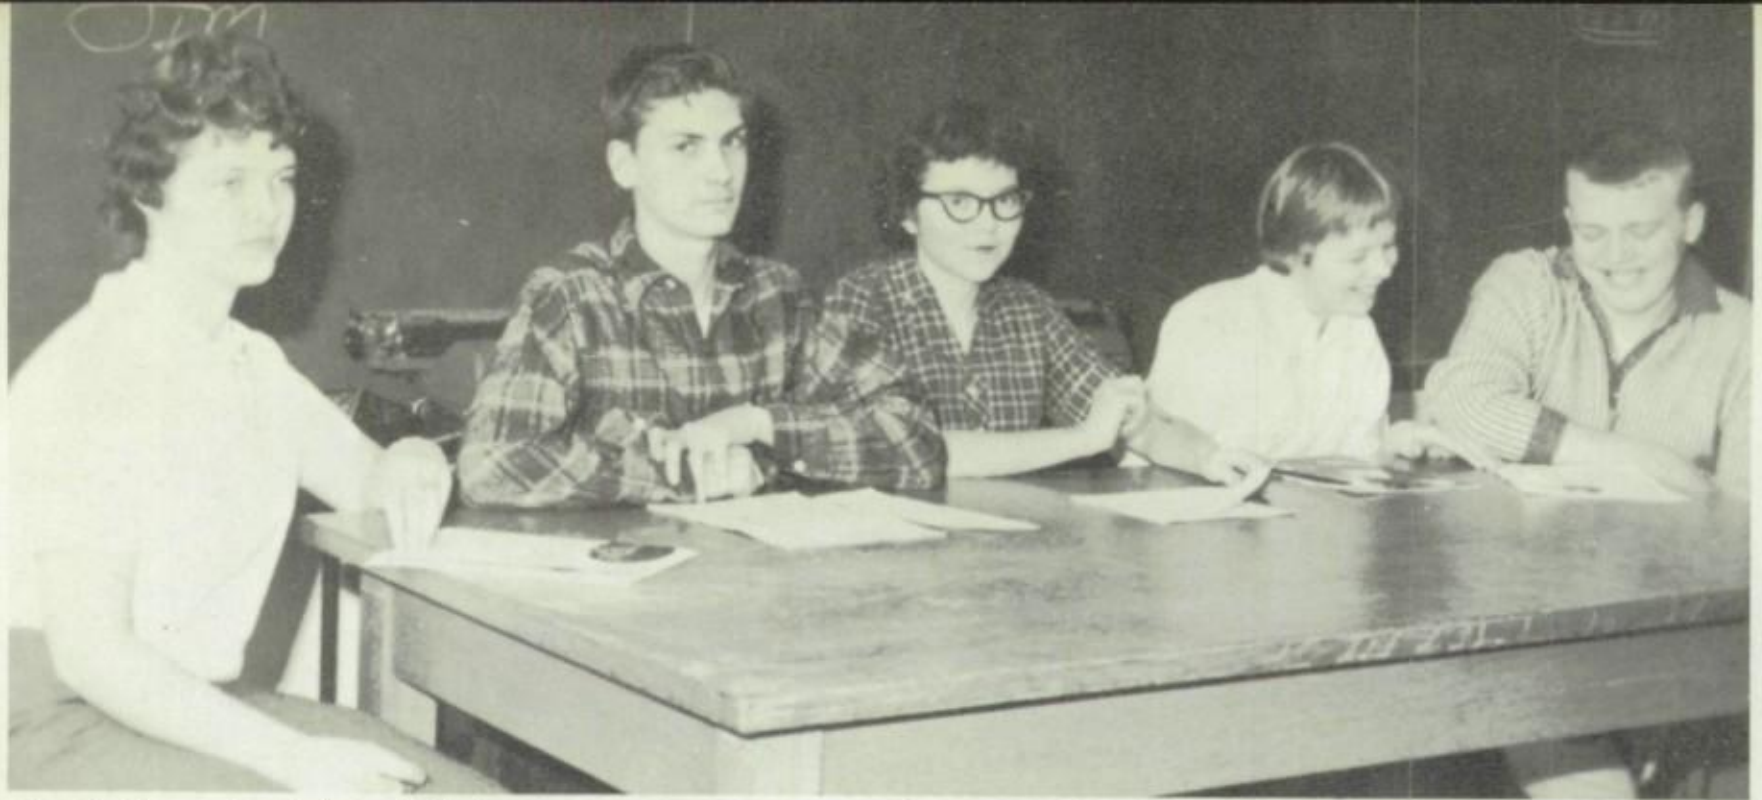

Languages and Travelers Go Together

English Students Master Their Own Language

Remember when, as sophomore, you had to memorize Mark Anthony's speech in Julius Caesar? Remember when we read Poe, Silas Marner, A Tale of Two Cities, and House of Seven Gables, as required reading? Who could forget the Pribble-McCrory tests, the themes, the spelling tests, and the vocabularies? Although English sometimes seems to be a hard and tedious subject, most of the students realize the important influence that English will have in their future.

Under Mrs. Harvie's direction, the English teachers strive to fulfill their task of drumming the essentials of English into the students' heads.

Miss Costa and Miss Earle, librarians, always willingly give assistance to those students who are seeking material for themes or a book for a book report.

Mathematics presents a challenge to the inquiring mind of today's teenager. Plane and solid geometry, algebra, trigonometry, business and refresher math are the math courses offered at Arthur Hill.

Mr. Giesecke, head of the math department, sees to it that there is a math course to fit every student's need whether he wants a general mathematical background or the advanced technical knowledge. Accelerated math courses are offered for sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

These courses have a common goal: to promote clear and logical thinking through reasoning and practical application. The slide rule, compass, protractor, and the plain old pencil and eraser are the working tools of an advanced math student.

Hillites have many opportunities to listen to the music of the Arthur Hill Band and Orchestra. Whether they are playing a lively march or a soothing melody their music is sure to please everyone. Football games and parades give the band a chance to exhibit their talents. Led by the able and energetic drum majorettes and majors, they can be found marching their way through wind, rain, sleet, and snow. The orchestra displays their ability in the spring concert, plays, and other school activities. Arthur Hill's Dance Band plays lively and swinging music at some of the school dances and throughout our city at various functions.

As part of her job as co-editor, Letitia St. Pierre checks the size of the pictures that are sent in.

Pat Dent, co-editor, checks through the copy to see that it is all in before the deadline.

Legenda Records All

The Events Of The Past Year

"Who is number 10?" Bob Posey, LeRoy Bauer, and John Goes take care of all sports work.

Creating a distinctive, informative, and, we hope, accurate record of a year's activities at a large high school keeps the seventeen members of the Legenda staff busy from September to June. Each staff member is responsible for his quota of pages—assigning pictures, writing identifications, narratives, and headlines, planning layouts, meeting deadlines. The reward comes when he sees the completed book treasured by his fellow students.

School Paper Informs Students

Members of the writing staff are: Richard Curry, Ann Laing, Gretchen Hargesheimer, Dale Lantz, Sandra Armstrong, Jo Ann Miller, Sharon Canaday, and Carole Engel. Missing is Robert Enszer.

Checking over the copy of a recent edition of the News are the Co-Editors, Judy Kreuchauf and Kathryn Zahn.

Members of the Arthur Hill News are required to take Journalism I before joining the staff. In journalism the student learns the duties and functions of a newspaper. These may range all the way from operating a camera to writing copy. Newspapermen must be skillful as well as versatile. Each student has a certain job for each issue and is always striving to do the best possible work. The staff records all school activities in each and every issue of the Arthur Hill News.

Photographers and typists of the Arthur Hill News are SEATED: Robert Blodgett, Sue Blynn, and Ronald McCrea. STANDING: Nancy Burbach, Tom Kinney, and Kathleen Nowlin.

Learning to study, driver training, budgeting, and preparing for the modern world of today are included in the art of living classes. The bookwork of driver training is completed during the second semester art of living classes in the sophomore year. The ten hours of behind the wheel experience that is needed to complete the course are taken during a study hall or a student may be excused from gym.

"It's a homer" . . . or so Beth Hale hopes.

Did you ever wonder how the Russians got their rockets and dogs into outer space? Did you ever wonder what would happen if you mixed Ca(OH)_2 and HCl ? Hillites learn these and many other interesting facts about our world in physics, chemistry, and natural science. These classes offer many advantages for the student who wishes to learn more about the world of today—whether it's for a college major, minor or just to increase their knowledge.

Who fits wooden blocks together? The psychology department at Arthur Hill does. Of course, they don't play all the time. They learn about the mind, personalities, and what makes one tick.

Some students at Arthur Hill think that food is the most important substance in this modern world. There are certain undebatable points pertaining to food, its preparation, and usefulness. Classes such as cooking and sewing play a very important part in preparing the student to meet the present world today confidently and well-prepared.

Government Day and the MOCK National Political Convention have given Hillites an opportunity to enter and receive a better understanding of the local and national system of government. The knowledge gained through these practical experiences will help prepare Arthur Hill students to become better voting and well informed citizens.

American and World History, Economics, and Sociology also give Hillites opportunities to better understand the workings of our government and enables them to take an active part in the society in which we live.

Mrs. Stewart is trying to find how much information Pat Manning and the other students have retained from a section's work by giving a little "Quiz".

Looking over the applications for student Government day are: Doug Peacock, Letitia St. Pierre, Ellen Anderson, Bill Scharffe, Dinny Boyd, and Pete Hauffe.

Service Requests Honor

"Arthur Hill is proud to name—", Through various school activities many Hillites are named recipients of top honors. Over one hundred conscientious students earn scholarships. The Honor Assembly program gives recognition to outstanding workers in classes and in social or service clubs. While the administration selects those who will receive leadership trophies, the senior class elects to the Hall of Fame those fifteen seniors whom it considers the outstanding upperclassmen. The Honor Alumnus ceremony and the Twenty-Five Year Club confer great distinction upon former students and present instructors.

Honor Alumnus

Letitia St. Pierre, who gave the tribute to Mr. Brown, congratulates him for receiving the honor.

Mr. Brown greets Mr. and Mrs. Gustafson during the reception in the North Hall.

NINTH HONOR ALUMNUS

On May 14, 1959, Arthur Hill High School paid tribute to one of its former students. Maurice Everett Brown was selected as the ninth Honor Alumnus. Gaining recognition as a businessman and a former mayor, he presently works toward the Tri-County College. Mr. Brown, because of his untiring work for our community, ranks as one of Saginaw's leading citizens.

Teachers Honored

Twenty-five Year Club

Mrs. Giesel taught at Arthur Hill for twenty-four years and then left to devote all her time to her home and family. Last year she returned to Arthur Hill. Inadvertantly her name was not included in the 1959 yearbook, but she was honored at the spring dinner of the Twenty-five Year Club along with Miss Doidge and Miss Jensen. Mrs. Giesel teaches English and mathematics and in her spare time she enjoys golf and bridge.

They Served Ninety-two Years

Ninety-two years of service to Arthur Hill High School is the record of these three Twenty-five Year Club members who retired last spring.

Miss Ethel Peterson as dean was patient, understanding, and capable of handling many different situations. She started her career at Arthur Hill as head of the English department. Travel abroad and club activities now occupy her time.

Mr. Stanley Schubert directed dramatics and taught English for thirty-four years. Besides being enthusiastic about everything he did, he strove for perfection. He started what has proved to be one of Arthur Hill's most beautiful traditions, the Christmas pageant. He keeps busy with world travel, community interest, and an affectionate interest in Arthur Hill.

Mr. John Day taught social studies, presided over study halls and the eighth hour which was a disciplinary period. After twenty-seven years he decided to devote all of his time to his real estate business.

Introduction To High School

ARTHUR HILL HIGH SCHOOL

Segnow, Michigan

1999

Underclassmen Support Spirit

Wherever one chances to find Hillites—whooping up school spirit at games, influencing school politics, plotting club programs, or earnestly cramming for semester exams—one will also find The Underclassmen. The juniors and sophomores have supplemented the school spirit through their own plays, parties, and athletic events. On their first school day they accepted the invitation to study their school with the "Introduction to High School" handbook. Since they constitute two-thirds of the enrollment, these Grads of '61 and '62 should and have learned the secret of making Arthur Hill tops.

Anticipating the pace they would lead as a senior, the juniors participated in all school activities, from club membership to sport events. After Homecoming came the more serious event, the Scholarship Qualifying Test, of which many juniors took advantage. Musically speaking, the juniors apparently have talent too, for they were well represented in both the annual Christmas Pageant and Bance Bounce.

Without a doubt, as in other years, receiving the class rings and attending the Junior Prom proved to be the high points of the year.

Bewilderment and confusion marked the new Hillites. They fought their way down the wrong halls to discover their mistakes and make themselves late for classes. They timidly began to take part in classes, joined clubs, plays, games and dances.

As the year went by the sophomores gained more confidence. They showed their pride in being Hillites by living up to the high standards of Arthur Hill High School.

An Invitation to the Hi-Y Club

Clubs Attract Hillites

Early in the school year, bulletin announcements may read: "If you are interested in our activities, we invite you to join our club". The solemn ceremonies and zany initiations open a year of constructive, enjoyable get-togethers for both old and new recruits. A student can find ways to serve Arthur Hill through various club projects, to have just plain fun, and to satisfy an appetite (refreshments are usually served!). Each pin that a Hillite club member boasts extends a welcome for his respective group.

Y-Teens

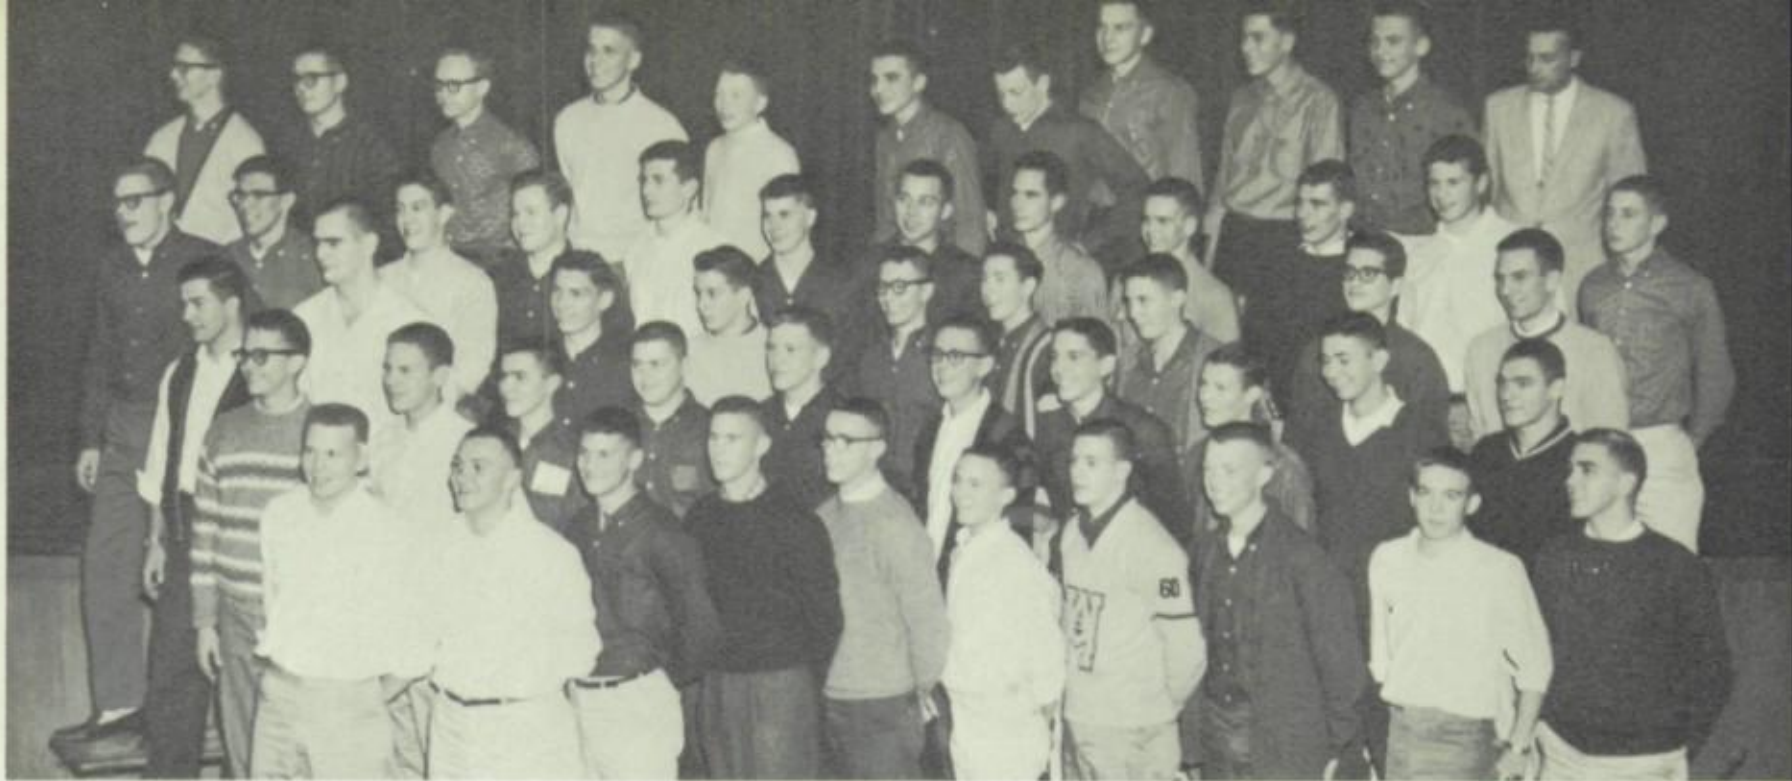

"Deck the halls with boughs of holly!" Our Y-Teens do exactly this during the holiday season by assisting with hanging greens in the interior of the Y.W.C.A. As service is the purpose of the club, members aid both community and school by entertaining orphans, sewing for the Junior Needlework Guild, and co-sponsoring dances with the Hi-Y. Climaxing the year's functions is an award to the outstanding sophomore girl.

Latin Club

"Adsum," meaning "present," is the password of all Latin Club members during the meeting's roll-call. Entered as slaves, members gain freedom at a rank raising ceremony in the spring by participating in club activities and maintaining good report cards. Members may also attend state and national conventions in the spring.

"Buenos Dias," a friendly greeting meaning "Good Afternoon", begins Spanish Club meetings. Activities include a Christmas party for Mexican children, a celebration of Pan American Day by sponsoring a Pan American Tea for teachers, and "Excellency in Spanish" awards which are presented during the awards assembly. Los Amigos promotes interest in Spanish culture and gives a social outlet for all members.

J. E. T. S. Club

In this day and age all interests in technical fields have grown more important. To be able to design and help create new equipment for our nation's needs is the goal of our J.E.T.S. Club members. Meetings provide more information and guidance to students interested in the numerous fields of engineering.

Math Club

Anything from figuring income tax to solving difficult equations takes place during meetings of the Math Club. Members interested in careers in the field of mathematics look toward the Math Club for a greater knowledge of mathematics and its importance. For nine years the club has been striving to assist all interested students.

"Bring your little men!" in an A.H.S. bulletin refers not to a Lilliputian army but chessmen, of course. At student request a Chess Club was formed this year to provide an opportunity to indulge in a game of pure skill, subtle scheming and cautious manipulations. Tournaments are held in this art of king-cornering among members and with clubs from other schools.

This year Arthur Hill's Future Farmers chapter is proud to have among its midst—a Future Farmer Sweetheart. Pat Haas received this honor and was presented with a sweetheart jacket. Main projects of the club include cooperative activities in investment and community leadership.

By planning a well-rounded program, which includes cadet teaching at other schools, welcoming guests for special meetings and conventions, arranging displays, sponsoring speakers, and partaking in civic and school activities, the Future Teachers Club strives to provide increased knowledge in the field of education. After membership in the Club, students have a pretty good idea as to which phase of teaching they wish to pursue.

Future Teachers

In order to assist its members to form a greater appreciation for adventures in homemaking, the Future Homemakers Club strives to present well-planned programs. Among the club activities are an initiation candlelighting ceremony and dinner, a Mother-Daughter Tea, and a community service project.

A special honor treasured by journalism students is membership in the Treanor Chapter of Quill and Scroll. One must excell in journalism while on the Legenda or News staff and maintain an academic record of "B" or better to be pledged into the club. Formed to encourage good journalism, Quill and Scroll sponsors the Honor Alumnus Tribute and also presents the Treanor Journalism Award to the outstanding senior journalist.

Future Nurses

Of interest to all girls seeking a career in nursing are guest speakers who preside over meetings of the Future Nurses Club. These speakers discuss the future and rewards of, and problems concerning the different phases of nursing. Delegates to the Local League Delegate Council and state rally are selected each year. Any junior or senior girls may become a member and acquire much information about the nursing vocation.

"Gee! What nursing school really offers the best curriculum?" Glenna Linebaugh, Gloria Little, and Connie Mayer ponder over this important question.

Sports Incite Enthusiasm

The ol' S.O. really gets a workout when football, swimming, and basketball are in season. On a memorable cold, rainy night last fall Arthur Hill's touchdown heroes downed the Trojans. Basketball supporters also saw the Saginaw High basketmen defeated on the home court. Fans always could expect an exciting swimming meet plus a decisive victory. Cross-country and the spring sports completed the year of Hillite victories. Enthusiasm has always run high when the fans are invited to see their Lumberjack sportsmen meet the test.

Despite a season record of 2-6-1, the Lumberjacks redeemed themselves by out-swamping Saginaw High, on a rain soaked gridiron, by the score of 12-0.

In hard-fought contests, Coach Kurt Kampes' crew bounced Pontiac 19-6, and tied Bay City Handy 14-14. Three games were dropped by one or two points and a fourth game by a touchdown.

Led by halfbacks Joe Mason and Ray Cosby and fullbacks Joel Garinger and Jack Anderson, the running game of the Lumberjacks rated among the best. Not only did the Hillites possess a good running game but a fine passing attack that was led by Quarterback John Stricker. His favorite receivers were ends Tom Dawson, Duane Hartman, and half-back Mike Yeager.

The defensive line unit which weighed in at an average of 200 pounds per man, was anchored by Jay Wright, Fred Fillmore, Ernie Evens, Ray Beebe, and Duane Hartman. This unit proved hard to penetrate.

Juniors who gained experience at the end of the season will prove useful to next year's Lumberjack cause.

Fans Favor Climatic Moments of Close Contests

The season was very exciting for fans and spectators alike. Several of the games were both won and lost in the closing moments of the contests, but this only added to the enjoyment of the crowd. Highpoint of the season was a victory over Saginaw High on the Hillite hardwood by a narrow two-point margin. The highly-touted Trojans had come onto our court in championship contention, but all their hopes were in vain as the Lumberjack marksmen consistently found the range.

Dave Tingler, a senior, led our team to most of its victories and always came through at the right time. He was one of the highest scorers in the Valley and led the Lumberjacks in point production. When our team traveled to Saginaw High on a cold evening in February, Dave came through with twenty-nine points to further prove his value to the team.

Pete Datema, Tom Cousineau, Jim Clements, Jerry Calkins, and Kurt Schultz also played important parts in many of the Hillite victories. Because of them the hoopsters were able to upset Pontiac Central, the Valley champions. The season included wins over Bay City Central and Flint Central on foreign floors.

Action was fast and furious throughout the Saginaw High and Arthur Hill battle.

Divers: John Gustin and Jim Leishman.

Again this year, the Arthur Hill swimmers rounded out the season with only one defeat. Under the expert coaching of Mr. David Gaaney, the Hillites won firsts in the Valley and Invitational meets which were held at our own pool. At Ann Arbor, the tankers placed tenth in the state Class A meet.

Individual Lumberjack team honors go to Seniors William Vondette who holds the Valley record in the 200-yard individual medley and William Hyslop in the 200- and 400-yard freestyle. Both were undefeated in all the dual meets of the season.

At the annual awards program held March 21, Captain Peter Haupe awarded captain elect Mike Hart the traditional captain's ring which he will wear for the 1960-61 season.

Hillite harriers line up for another event.

A favored Hi-Y club battled from behind for three periods, before downing a determined faculty squad by the score of 30-29.

Leading the Hi-Y club to victory was Jon Diebold with seven points, Art Sieferlein with six points, and Roy Beebe with four points. High scorers for the faculty were Mr. James Alexander with eight points, Mr. Ralph Grueber, six points, and Mr. Vern Hawes, four points.

Despite losing both games of the annual contest the faculty war cry is "wait until next year."

Coach Seymour Murphy shocks the boys by dropping in two points. →

Never before in the history of the Arthur Hill LEGENDA has any staff ever been so proud or so privileged. In this volume we are introducing two new features—a color page and a supplement!

Every Hillite has longed for a color page in our yearbook. As if in answer to our dreams, MR. WERKEMA, our school photographer, has contributed the color theme page.

Beginning in 1960, the seniors can relive their own graduation activities as recorded in the supplement. Spring sports, plays, and the Band Bounce will also appear in this 16-page insert. Seniors will receive these additions to their book through the postal service at the end of the summer. Underclassmen will call for the remainder of their yearbook at the opening of school next year.

Our staff wishes to thank all the other "behind-the-scenes assistants": the faculty, the students, the office staff, our advertisers, our printers, Edwards Brothers of Ann Arbor, and our yearbook adviser, Miss Ruth Murphy.
